

Maistro is the brain. Your menu is the heart.

Menu management sits at the heart of your operation: managing orders from every connected channel and updating menus centrally across your POS, kiosks, website, app, digital screens, Just Eat, Deliveroo and Uber Eats. Working hand in hand with Maistro, it keeps sales, product and order data flowing into the AI that helps you forecast, plan and run the business.

Update every connected menu centrally

Manage products, prices, sizes, modifiers, meal deals and availability in one place. Send updates to your connected POS, kiosks, website, app, digital signage and marketplace menus, including Just Eat, Deliveroo and Uber Eats. Keep what customers can order aligned across the operation.

Manage orders across all your channels

Bring orders from your connected POS, kiosks, website, app, Voice AI and delivery marketplaces into one operational flow. Menu items and their options give the kitchen the information it needs to prepare each order, while stock usage stays linked to what was sold.

The heart feeds the brain

Menus give Maistro the context behind every sale: what was ordered, through which channel and which ingredients it uses. That connected flow of sales, product and order data supports AI stock forecasts, staffing plans and the wider business view in HQ. Menu management and Maistro work together, from the plan to the next order.

Works with your POS

You do not have to use our POS. Maistro integrates with Square, and we can explore connections with other POS providers. Introduce us to your provider so we can assess the integration and confirm the scope. If you need a POS, we can provide Boss It.

Connect the menu to ingredients and service

Link products, sizes and modifiers to recipes and ingredient quantities so sales connect to stock and food costs. Keep kitchen displays and digital screens connected to the same menu information, with AI helping plan what to show and when.

Full integrations with Just Eat, Deliveroo and Uber Eats. Square integration is available; other POS connections are assessed with your provider.
